* Dr. Solic's section of EDR 307 requires clearances* due to a service learning component. It is also part of a block schedule with a specific section of EDR 304 (the section changes per semester). Students do not have to take EDR 304 and 307 in the same semester; however, this block is the only exception; students must enroll in both courses of a block-scheduled EDR 304 and 307 course. Find which courses are blocked-scheduled by logging into myWCU and selecting "Search Class Schedule." Specify a desired semester and select Literacy as the department. From the search results, click on individual sections of EDR 304 and 307 to bring up the Course Details screen of a course. In this display, look at the COURSE NOTES section! Course Notes will indicate if this particular section is part of the EDR 304/307 block. It will also include directions as to how to request permissions to enroll in these courses.

 EDR 304 and 306 are prerequisites for required courses in the program. Credits earned from these courses are not applicable toward the 18 credit Reading Minor

 FATE is not a requirement to apply or be accepted into the Reading Minor program; however, it will be necessary in its overall completion.

* Clearances must be current (done within the past year) and valid for the entire duration of the course.

Clearances required: Criminal Background, PA Child Abuse, FBI Fingerprinting, and tuberculosis test results.

 EDR 321 is not a field course but still requires clearances*.
