Article II: Required Organization Assembly

Below is a detailed explanation of the assembly required to form an organization. Interested students should be compiling the following information throughout the formation process, ensuring that there is a minimum of five students (including the executive board) and an advisor to move forward in the recognition process.

1. A full executive board, consisting of a president, vice president, treasurer, and secretary.
 - a. A student may not serve in more than one of the above officer positions at any given time but may hold in conjunction any additional executive board positions as detailed in the organization's bylaws (e.g., social media director, etc.).

Article III: Organization Approval Process

Below is an outline of the step-by-step process by which an organization can be recognized by the Student Government Association.

1. A student interested in forming an organization will do individual research into the current list of recognized organizations on campus. The most updated list of current organizations can be found on RamConnect.
 - a. Should the student find that their idea for an organization is similar in nature to one that is already recognized, they may edit the purpose of their organization accordingly to differentiate it from that previously existing group, or they may consider reaching out to that previously existing group to combine their efforts.
 - b. An organization that is found to be too similar to another existing organization will not proceed through the following steps of this process.
2. After ensuring the uniqueness of their organization, the student will send an email to involvement@wcupa.edu to express interest in proceeding through the process for newly forming organizations.
 - a. This email should contain the name of the student interested in forming the organization, the name of the proposed organization, and a draft of a purpose statement for the proposed organization.
 - b. The receipt of this email will allow for a staff member from the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement or a Leadership Consultant (LC) from L.E.A.D., Leadership Empowerment and Development, to set up an informational meeting to discuss the next steps of the formation process, including the procedure for filling out the Request to Organize Form.
3. The student interested in forming the organization must complete a Request to Organize (RTO) form, located on the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement's RamConnect page.
 - a. Prior to filling out this form, the student should secure an advisor interested in supporting their organization. A staff member from the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement will confirm via email with the listed advisor their commitment.
4. The interested students will receive an email from a member of the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement staff informing them of the receipt of their Request to Organize form as well as the name of the Leadership Consultant that will be assigned to the student to assist them through the remainder of the following procedures in the process of SGA recognition for organizations.

- a. After receiving a confirmation email from the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement, the organization will be permitted to hold a maximum of three informational meetings in Sykes Student Union (based on space availability).
 - i. Sykes Student Union staff will be alerted to the organization's forming status by staff from the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement.
 - ii. These three meetings are required to be strictly related to member recruitment and organization formation. Requests for space reservations related to events such as fundraising, special events or programming, etc., will not be honored.
5. The organization must create bylaws according to the template provided by their assigned Leadership Consultant. These bylaws should govern the assembly, operation, and sustainability of the organization. The interested student may contact their assigned Leadership Consultant for assistance with this process.
6. The organization must submit their compiled list of members, delineating executive board members and appointing a student point of contact (usually the organization's president) for the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement and SGA to communicate with.
 - a. Included in this list should be the emails of all involved students as well as their class standing (e.g., first-year, sophomore, etc.).
 - b. This list, in addition to the bylaws created by the organization, must be sent via email to the assigned Leadership Consultant. Following their review, the Leadership Consultant will send these documents to the SGA parliamentarian for approval to continue on to SGA's Bylaw Review Committee.
7. After a preliminary review, the SGA parliamentarian will reach out to the student point of contact for the forming organization via email to establish a time for them to attend a meeting of the Bylaw Review Committee.
 - a. Only one member of the potential executive board is required to be in attendance at this meeting, but as many members of the potential executive board as possible are encouraged to attend. It is suggested that the previously established student point of contact is one of the members that attends this meeting.
8. At the meeting, the Bylaw Review Committee will examine the proposed organization bylaws according to the following categories: the need for the organization's existence on campus and the uniqueness of the organization when compared to current recognized groups, the vision of the organization as it refers to its purpose and governance, and the sustainability of the organization in terms of the longevity of its membership.
 - a. The Bylaw Review Committee can reject bylaws for any problems in functionality, clarity, or if they are incomplete.
9. The SGA parliamentarian will work with the student point of contact to correct any problems that may arise during the review of their organization's bylaws. Any changes required must be made and submitted to the SGA parliamentarian before the group may proceed to the SGA senate.

- a. If, according to the Bylaw Review Committee, the necessary changes are suitably minor, the organization will not be required to return to the committee and will instead be passed forward to the senate. Should the changes require any significant discussion, the organization will be required to return to the Bylaw Review Committee.
10. Upon approval by the Bylaw Review Committee, the SGA parliamentarian will invite the organization to give a brief presentation to the SGA general senate.
 - a. The SGA parliamentarian will provide a presentation template to the forming organization following their approval by the Bylaw Review Committee.
11. The SGA senate will vote on the formation of the organization in accordance with the presented information as well as SGA and University policies.
 - a. A 2/3 vote in favor by the senate is required for the organization to be formally recognized.
 - b. Organizations are permitted to spectate the discussion on their organization and subsequent voting period.
 - c. A written letter containing the verdict and the most recent copy of the bylaws as approved by the Bylaw Review Committee, if recognized, will be sent to the student point of contact and the appropriate University staff via email.
 - d. The verdict will be forwarded to the Vice President of the Division of Student Affairs, or designee, and the Student Services, Inc. (SSI) Executive Director.
 - i. Any of the above may reject the organization's recognition if they deem it to be contrary to the university's mission, or if they find that it presents undue hardship and/or liability to the University or Student Services, Inc.
12. After the SGA verdict is made available to the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement, a RamConnect page for the organization will be created.
13. After being recognized by the SGA senate, the organization's student point of contact will be encouraged to remain in contact with their assigned Leadership Consultant in order to discuss the responsibilities and expectations that follow recognition.
14. Outlined below is the procedure for groups that did not receive a vote in favor of recognition by the SGA senate.
 - a. If the group would like to appeal the decision, they must meet with the SGA parliamentarian to discuss the reason(s) for denial.
 - b. After at least 14 days from the SGA senate vote, the prospective organization may resubmit revised bylaws with the appropriate updates addressing the reason(s) for denial to the Bylaw Review Committee for appeal.
 - c. The Bylaw Review Committee will discuss any proposed bylaw changes and table the group's appeal for at least seven days.
 - d. After the seven day tabling period, the Bylaw Review Committee may vote to bring the group to the SGA senate for another vote of recognition.

- i. Prospective organizations may go through this appeal process only once before the group must wait until the following academic semester to once again resubmit their bylaws.
- ii. Organizations have a maximum allotted timeline of one year, from the time that their Request to Organize form is received by the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement, to be recognized by the SGA senate. Should an organization be denied by the SGA senate, the appeal process will only be possible if they remain within the bounds of the one year timeline.
 1. If the organization will exceed the one year period before the appeal process can be completed, they will be required to restart the entire organization formation process, from step one of the procedures detailed in this article.

Article IV: Organization Bylaws

The Office of Student Leadership and Involvement shall investigate any complaint brought to them by any West Chester University student, faculty, staff, or administrator, or any complaints that emerge from within the office against a recognized student organization for violation of any of the above.
 - a. These complaints can be brought to either the SGA parliamentarian or to the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement via email.
 - b. Complaints regarding violations of the Student Code of Conduct will be reviewed by the Office of Student Conduct.

- c. The Office of Student Leadership and Involvement reserves the right to place suspensions or restrictions on any organization should the need for an investigation arise.
- 3. If an organization is found to be in violation of any of the above policies, the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement will consider sanctions including a warning, suspension, or a recommendation of derecognition.
 - a. A warning is defined as written communication from the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement, possibly in conjunction with a meeting, detailing the infraction and what steps are required to correct it.
 - i. This communication will contain a deadline for when this correction must be completed. If an organization does not meet this deadline, further sanctions will be considered by the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement.
 - b. Suspension is defined as a freeze on the organization's SSI account and/or a hold on the ability of the organization to reserve University spaces. The length of a suspension will be determined by the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement.

 - ii. The recommendation will be forwarded to the SGA parliamentarian and the Bylaw Review Committee. The Bylaw Review Committee will review the recommendation and vote either in favor of or against the derecognition.
 - iii. If the Bylaw Review Committee's decision is to derecognize an organization, the SGA parliamentarian will make such a motion to the SGA senate. A 2/3 vote shall be sufficient to pass the motion. If the motion fails, the organization is still considered to be on suspension. The Office of Student Leadership and Involvement shall consider the time of the suspension.
 - iv. If a derecognized group feels that their derecognition is unfair then they may apply for an appeal to the Bylaw Review Committee. They must submit, in writing, a notification of appeal to the SGA parliamentarian after the derecognition has been announced. A deadline for the notification of appeals will be set by the SGA parliamentarian.

4. In the event that an organization should, by a 2/3 vote of its executive board, wish to be derecognized, the organization must notify the Director of the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement.
 - a. Organizations that choose to be derecognized are not required to go through the process outlined in the above step and will instead be automatically derecognized by the Director of the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement.
5. The Office of Student Leadership and Involvement will inform Sykes Student Union staff, SSI, other appropriate facilities staff, and the SGA treasurer of any suspended or derecognized organizations to ensure the loss of privileges.

A student may not serve in more than one of the above officer positions at any given time but may hold in conjunction any additional executive board positions as detailed in the organization's bylaws. The Office of Student Leadership and Involvement must be informed of any changes in executive board members or advisors.
 - a. It is recommended that organizations retain additional membership outside of the executive board in order to ensure the sustainability of the organization.
 - b. If an organization at any time does not have a full executive board and/or an advisor the organization will be placed on suspension by the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement until those positions are filled.

 - a. This excludes clubs/organizations defined by the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement as Greek Letter Organizations or Honor Societies.

 - a. Failure to do this by the deadline set by the Office of Student Leadership and Involvement will result in the automatic suspension of an organization until the registration is complete.
 - b. If an organization fails to register by the last SGA senate meeting of the following fall semester, it will be officially derecognized. The Office of Student Leadership and Involvement will inform SGA, Sykes Student Union staff, SSI, and other appropriate facilities staff in order to ensure the loss of organizational privileges.
