What to Expect:

Hunger Banquets are memorable events designed to raise awareness and funds to address food insecurity. Hunger banquet guests will have an interactive dining experience that is determined by the luck of the draw. Once guests arrive, they draw tickets at random that assign them to a high-, middle-, or low-income tier—based on the latest statistics about poverty around the world.

Each income level has a different dining experience.

The 20 percent in the high-income tier are served a sumptuous meal; the 30 percent in the middle-income group eat a modest meal, and the 50 percent in the low-income tier help themselves to a simple meal.

The master of ceremonies will guide participants through this interactive experience and give participants a chance to discuss and reflect on their dining experience. By the end of the event, guests will have a better understanding of what food insecurity may feel like for others and what actions they can take to help combat the issue.
