Study Abroad Summary

This summer I had the opportunity to travel to Argentina with the scholarship from the Department of Languages and Cultures. I was able to do an independent study focusing on the literature and films depicting the time of the dictatorship in Argentina. I was able to live with an amazing host family, study in a fantastic university, and work with a professor who was very helpful to my research and findings for my paper. While in Argentina, I was able to travel to Iguazú and see the waterfalls, spend a weekend in Córdoba and see the National University of Argentina. I also had the opportunity to spend a weekend in Buenos Aires where we saw Evita's tomb, see a tango show, eat a delicious asado and be engulfed in the culture. I, with a few other students, took a bus to Uruguay for the day just to explore another city. I would not have been able to go on this amazing trip if it weren't for the scholarship from the Department of Languages and Cultures and I am so thankful for the opportunity.
