

Help us usher in Women's History Month!

Reproductive Justice, Rights, and Liberties: Conversations Post-Roe v. Wade

Sponsored by: Center for Women's and Gender Equity; WCU Counseling Center; Peace & Conflict Studies; Departments of History, Philosophy, Women's & Gender Studies, Educational Leadership & Higher Education Administration; School of Music; University College; and the Colleges of Health Science, Education and Social Work, Sciences and Mathematics, Arts and Humanities, Business and Public Management

Wednesday, March 1st, 2023

(Thursday, March 2nd - Snow Date)

5-7pm | Sykes
Theater

Pre-registration encouraged by not required (scan QR code below)

How Abortion Bans Harm Campus Mental Health

Join us for a conversation with Katie Rose Guest Pryal, J.D., Ph.D. (she/her), an adjunct professor of law at the University of North Carolina School of Law and author of more than 15 books, including Life of the Mind Interrupted: Essays on Mental Health and Disability in Higher Education and Even if You're Broken: Essays on Sexual Assault and #MeToo.

Additional Events this Semester

Strategies for the Long Haul: Organizing post-Dobbs abortion decision with health educator Jazzmin Boyd (she/her) and others

March 6th
6:00-7:30pm
(location: TBA)

Interfaith Perspectives on Abortion and Reproductive Rights, with Rabbi Shelley Goldman (she/her), Rev. Dr. Donna Lawrence Jones (she/her), and Ejaz A. Sabir, Esq. (he/him)

March 8th
4:00-5:30pm
(on Zoom)

