

2017-2018 Federal Work Study Student Employment Application Instructions

The Federal Work Study Program provides part-time need-based employment opportunities on campus and off campus with community service partners, for undergraduate and graduate students who meet the eligibility criteria.

How to Apply:

- Complete this application, as soon as possible. February 15th is the priority deadline to be considered for fall 2017 and spring 2018 work study awards. Please keep in mind that each year we do have a waitlist of students for work study employment and therefore it is in your best interest to submit the application by the priority deadline.
- Submit the 2017-18 FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) at www.FAFSA.gov, as soon as possible but, by the February 15th priority deadline. The FAFSA is used to determine your financial eligibility for participation in the program, since federal work study is a need-based program.

Eligible students will be notified of their eligibility and placement.

- New students will receive notification of where they will be assigned in spring.
- Currently enrolled students will receive notification after spring grades have been processed, verification is completed, and satisfactory academic progress (SAP) has been determined.

Contracts containing the details of the work study placement will be mailed in mid-June. Please read your contract closely if placed in a position on campus since certain positions do require an interview or additional paperwork in advance.

Please check your WCU e-mail account and monitor your financial aid awards via myWCU, for financial aid alerts, on a regular basis.

Federal Work Study awards, unlike other sources of financial aid, will NOT appear as anticipated aid on your account summary/bill. Students receive direct, bi-weekly compensation for the hours worked.

Those employed via the Federal Work Study program may only hold one job processed by the WCU Payroll Office. This is due to the limited number of jobs available on campus. Students offered Federal Work Study are under no obligation to accept the offer.

All students hired via the Federal Work Study program will be required to complete child care/criminal background clearances. This process will be initiated after a job has been assigned and accepted.

Not all students interested in the Federal Work Study Program will be able to participate due to the eligibility guidelines governing the program, limited number of jobs, and funding available.
