

Join us!

at the Center for Contemplative Studies

Grand Opening of Our Gallery 104A

Art Exhibition by WCU students
Live Music Performances by
Cellist Lily Eckman & Guitarist Tori Fritz

Opening Reception:
Friday, February 21, 2020 3:30 – 5:00pm
Daily Showing: 8am-5pm thru February 28th
At the Center for Contemplative Studies

Come and enjoy free live music while experiencing some great artwork! Playful watercolors, abstract oil paintings and drawings will be on display.

Beginning at age eight, Lily Eckman began learning cello. As a soloist, she has appeared several times in Europe and has premiered several new works for cello. In her fourth year at WCU, Lily is currently pursuing a dual degree in music education and cello performance at WCU.

Tori Fritz is a singer-songwriter with a unique style. With influences from many different genres her songs have a little flavor from everywhere. Tori is a Music Education major with a concentration in percussion and will be involved in performances with the WCU Concert Band and Percussion Ensemble this spring.