

“

It just made me realize that I share a lot of common experiences with my fellow classmates. We must get to know each other and our stories rather than judging on first glance.

”

—student observation
from 2015 event

Take A Mental Health Day 2016

September 22

All events are open and free to WCU students, staff and faculty

wcupa.edu/mentalhealthday

12:00 to 2:00

FREE picnic lunch

SYKES UNION BALLROOMS

2:00 to 3:00

Dave Romano

Dave lives with depression and experienced the dark lows of self-injury and a suicide attempt. Dave is committed to letting others know, especially athletes and men, that it isn't a weakness to ask for help.

SYKES UNION BALLROOMS

3:30 to 4:30

J. Daneé Sergeant

Daneé is a survivor of trauma, homelessness, and substance abuse disorder, who lives with bipolar disorder. She empowers others to embrace who they are and seek help, and she serves as a peer specialist to LGBT-identified mental health consumers.

SYKES UNION BALLROOMS

7:30 to 8:30

Dr. Richard Kogan

Dr. Kogan's presentations are extraordinary. He tells vivid stories about famous composers who suffered mental problems—frequent among highly creative people—while illustrating the composer's work by exquisitely playing excerpts from their compositions.

ASPLUNDH THEATER