

Part-Time Quality Assurance Technician

Food Company in Malvern PA has an opening for a part-time quality assurance technician. Upcoming or recent graduate with a BS in chemistry, animal science, food science or closely related discipline preferred. Please send resumes to: QA Lab Manager, galabmanager@gmail.com

Job Duties:

- Under regular supervision conducts research analysis, synthesis and experimentation in accordance with established industry practices and methods
- Gathers and records all observations and data, analyzes and interprets information obtained for all technical implications
- Prepares project reports as required
- Teams with other laboratory staff aimed at the efficient and effective attainment of project objectives
- Understands effective utilization of analytical instruments, methods, and processes in extracting information from electronic systems and materials
- Maintains professional understanding on safety practices associated with materials and chemistries. Understands current handling, storage, and accountability procedures as defined by Federal and State agencies
- Maintains strict confidentiality of all information
- Some agricultural practices included but not limited to the following
  - Hen care at established research facility will include feedings, environmental monitoring, assessing hen wellbeing, and maintaining cleanliness of facility
  - Research duties will include project management at the facility

Job Requirements:

- Working toward a Bachelor's degree in Chemistry (organic, inorganic, physical, analytical, polymer), Animal Science, Food Science or closely related discipline
- Working knowledge of lab specific techniques, applications, and processes
- Ability to execute routine and non-routine analysis
- Strong technical writing background
- In-depth instrumentation knowledge and troubleshooting abilities
- Ability to team with hi-tech staff and projects
- Ability to communicate technical research and report data to management
- PC skills Microsoft Office and Excel
- Flexibility to arrange a suitable work schedule during normal 8:00 – 4:30 office hours on weekdays.
- Additional availability on weekends preferred (1.5 – 2 hrs/day), but this can be optional.

Benefits:

Competitive hourly compensation