

West Chester University BRIDGE Visit Day Friday, May 3, 2019

Application Due: Friday, March 15, 2019

Diversity and inclusion are critical to the field of psychology. West Chester University's Psychology Department will be holding a visit day to recruit and provide professional development opportunities for prospective graduate students who have been traditionally underrepresented in graduate programs in psychology. We invite research-oriented undergraduate seniors and recent graduates from underrepresented groups to apply to visit our campus and learn more about our psychology graduate degree programs at West Chester University. The WCU Visit Day aligns with the goals of the B.R.D.I.G.E (Building Roads to Diversity and Inclusion in Graduate Education) psychology network www.bridgepsychology.com

Accepted students will be invited to visit West Chester University on Friday, May 3, 2019.
A travel stipend and meals will be provided.

Visit Day Programming Includes:

- Presentations on selecting a graduate program, applying to graduate school, graduate funding opportunities, mentoring, and student life
- Individual and small group meetings with program faculty members and graduate students to discuss students' research interests
- Research and lab presentations
- A campus tour
- Social events and networking with current graduate students and faculty members
