

Spring 2014

Welcome back, a new year brings new ideas! This newsletter is full of ways to create meaningful learning opportunities for your students and enhance your development as a professor— Scott

Top Articles related from 2013

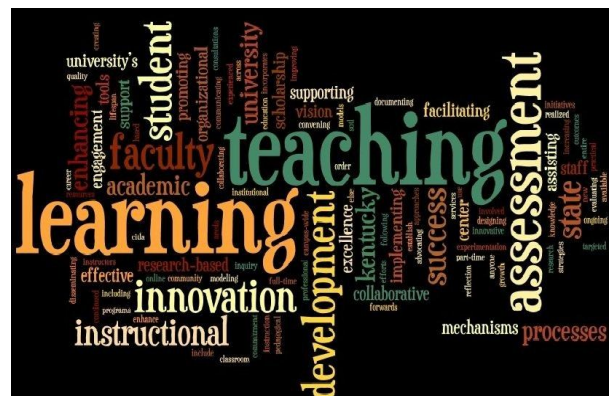

Are you looking for new ways to “energize” your course(s) this semester with ideas related to teaching, learning, or assessment?

Magna publications has posted their TOP 13 articles from 2013.

These articles were chosen after evaluating the click-thru rates and other reader engagement metrics.

Faculty Member Recently Published in Faculty Focus

Jackie Hodes, EdD, Assistant Professor in the Department of Counselor Education was recently published on a novel way to enhance student learning using the “Speed Dating” Model. Click here to better understand how more student engagement can be achieved through “Speed Dating”.

Are you looking for professional development funding?

- 2014 CELT funds are available to faculty for projects related to teaching, learning, and assessment. Click here for more information.
- Do you have a professional presentation within the areas of TLA? SoTLA is a form of scholarship that makes your work in the areas of TLA public and available to the wider community. If you have a proposal accepted for a professional conference this academic year within or outside of your discipline, apply for funding! Click here for more information.

SAVE THE DATE(s): The TLA Center is partnering with the Office of Distance Education to present: “Lunches and Learning” monthly discussions around teaching and learning throughout the spring semester, FREE lunch will be provided.

Time: 11:30-1pm; Location: TBA

2/19/14: Learn How to Utilize E-Portfolio within your Course/Program

- Come find out how you can incorporate this tool to document student learning and assist students in their search for employment!

3/13/14: Academic Integrity and Online Test Proctoring

- Learn how academic integrity can be maintained in the online environment.

4/16/14: Using “mobile apps” to Enhance Teaching and Learning

- Bring your favorite “app” or learn how to use mobile devices in face to face and online courses to enhance student learning!

RSVP now to ANDREA GRINWIS WITH SPECIFIC DATE

Monday Morning Mentor 2014: Sign up for 20 minute video sessions on current topics related to teaching, learning, and assessment. Click here for the spring schedule. Videos are launched each Monday, @ 11 am, from the TLA Center website and accessible for one week. To access the Monday Morning Mentor click on the TLAC website or email Scott Heinerichs to be added to a distribution list with the other 50+ faculty and have weekly videos sent to your email!

Scott Heinerichs, EdD
Associate Professor
Faculty Associate for
TLA

TLA Website
(610) 436-3518